June 10-11, 2011
Affinia Manhattan
New York, NY

Chairman:
Peter V. Dicipinigaitis, MD

The American Cough Conference (ACC) provides a state-of-the-art, academic update on the evaluation and management of cough including diagnosis, treatment, epidemiology, and ongoing clinical and basic research. The ACC is the nation's leading educational program on cough for all health care professionals involved in improving the management of patients with cough.

The ACC draws upon the world's leading experts in cough to serve as faculty. This year we are honored to have an extensive international faculty providing a rare opportunity for all to come together with peers, share the latest research, and engage in informal discussions throughout the conference.
